

CLAMS 2009 Spring Conference May 14-15, 2009

Shoreline Community College
16100 Greenwood Ave North
Shoreline, Washington

"Reaching Faculty with New Technologies: The Library's Role"

Featuring:

Presenter, Thursday morning

Cable Green, ELearning Director, Washington State Board for Community and Technical Colleges

Dr. Cable Green will discuss how the mix of participatory "web 2.0" digital technologies, tagging, social networking, open educational resources (including textbooks), creative commons licensing and cloud computing will fundamentally change how we think about and interact with data and knowledge. Please come ready to openly challenge and contribute to Cable's provocative notions of how higher education needs to transform to properly prepare 21st century learners.

As the eLearning director, Cable Green provides visionary leadership for the college system on issues related to improving online education and implementing pioneering learning technologies and practices. He served as the Director of Technology for the Ohio Learning Network and Director of Educational Technology for the Ohio State University College of Pharmacy before coming to the SBCTC in 2007. He earned his BS in international affairs from Lewis and Clark College in Oregon. He holds a MPC from Westminster College, a MA in communication from Ohio State, and a PhD in educational technology from Ohio State.

Group Presentation, Thursday afternoon

Distance Learning Tutorials & Learning Objects

Nicole Longpre of Bellevue Community College and Kitty Mackey of Clark College will be among those who will be demonstrating some of the projects they have been developing.

CLAMS members who have tutorials or learning objects they would like to share are encouraged to contact Barbara Oldham (boldham@wvcc.edu) or Sally Sheedy (ssheedy@whatcom.ctc.edu) for arrangements.

Current Issues Forum, Thursday afternoon

“QuestionPoint: How’s it Going?”

Ahniwa Ferrari, Online Resources Consultant, Library Development, Washington State Library, plus a panel of experienced librarians

Get the latest information on Washington’s virtual reference initiative as it moves beyond the “pilot” stage to include most of our colleges. Whether you are an enthusiastic early adopter or are taking a more cautious approach, join us with your questions and “war stories.”

Current Issues Forum, Friday morning

“Angel Learning Objects Repository”

Connie Broughton, Assistant Director, ELearning, Washington State Board for Community and Technical Colleges

Connie Broughton, Assistant Director of eLearning, Washington State Board for Community and Technical Colleges will explain and demonstrate what the LOR in Angel is and how it works. Librarian’s content is one of the uses they had in mind for the LOR.

Acknowledgements

Thanks are due to many people... to Cable Green, Ahniwa Ferrari, Connie Broughton and all of our panelists for their willingness to present; the Executive Board, and Leslie Potter-Henderson, our wonderful host at Shoreline Community College, whose hard work made this conference possible.
